

WORDLY WISE i3000™

EPS is transitioning to a new platform to deliver its Wordly Wise 3000 vocabulary content. The latest version is called Wordly Wise i3000. Wordly Wise i3000 content is hosted on a third-party platform called Exploros.

While the levels and lessons and word lists have not changed, there are some fundamental differences.

1. The onboarding and set up process is different. However, HSBC will handle the rostering and set up of parent and student accounts.
2. Students and parents will login on the same page. There is no longer a separate log-in page for the parent and student.
3. Another key difference is that each lesson and corresponding lesson test must be assigned individually. In the older version, you could assign a full level of Wordly Wise and students would progress from one lesson to the next automatically. In the new version the recommendation is you wait to assign the next lesson once the current lesson test is completed, starting at Lesson One.
4. EPS has also partnered with Quizlet. Included with your subscription is the option to access additional official Wordly Wise study sets that include additional practice, reinforcement and gaming activities. These study sets are optional and requires a separate sign-up process using an assigned Quizlet access code if you elect to access these study sets. Lesson One of each level is unlocked for anyone to access Quizlet but you are required to sign up and enter the unique Quizlet access code for Lessons Two+.
5. Wordly Wise i3000 has some social engagement features in which student written responses are solicited. In your case, these responses would only be shared with you as a parent. In one scene, students are asked to view classmates' images and in this case, they would not be able to respond.
6. Wordly Wise i3000 also offers the opportunity to assign comprehension passages at a lower Lexile level. This is can be done when assigning the lesson. The suggestion is if you are working on grade level in WWi3000, and the student is reading below grade level, you would set the “Reading Group” to B to give them access to the same passage written at a lower level.

7. Reports are different and capture data on student performance on completed Wordly Wise i3000 lessons and tests. The shared metrics on the Student Progress Report include Quiz Score, Responses per Student, Percent Complete, and Time on Task.
8. The Lesson pretest is now a self-assessment in terms of vocabulary understanding and knowledge. Words indicated as not known or understood could provide an opportunity to work with the student on these identified words. The post test is the same as before.
